Brief

Thomas Cook's 32,000 sq. ft. office required a total refit within a timescale of 2 weeks. The requirement was for a bespoke, bench desking solution and screens to provide collaborative and individual workspace.

Solution and Outcome

We delivered bespoke Soho workstations with white MFC tops, chrome frames and acrylic system screens. This solution has a floating top appearance and cable management within the beam. The modular, shared component system makes this a cost effective option, with the added benefit of being able to customise.
